

Target Market Determination

Term Deposits

October 2022 Version 2

This document is Judo Bank Pty Ltd's ABN 11 615 995 581, Australian Credit Licence and Australian Financial Services Licence (AFSL) 501 091 (Judo's) target market determination (TMD) for its term deposit product (Product) that is offered to 'retail clients' and 'wholesale clients' within the meaning of the Corporations Act 2001 (Cth) (Corporations Act) and associated regulations.

The Product is subject to the design and distribution requirements relating to financial products for retail clients in Pt 7.8A of the Corporations Act and associated regulations, and this TMD has been prepared in accordance with those requirements.

In relation to Products which are issued by Judo direct to consumers who fall within the target market (see below), Judo is both the issuer and the distributor of them.

For Products which are issued to consumers who fall within the target market (see below) through Judo's broker network, Judo is the issuer only. The relevant broker, which holds its own AFSL or is an authorised representative of an AFSL holder, is the distributor.

This TMD is only relevant for the class of consumers described immediately below who are also 'retail clients' within the meaning of the Corporations Act. You should seek independent advice if you are unsure whether you fall within Judo's target market or if this TMD is relevant to you.

If you have any questions regarding this TMD, please contact Judo on 13JUDO or your Term Deposit Broker (if applicable).

Class of consumers that comprise Judo's target market

Customer types

Judo's Product can be offered to:

- individuals, some of whom may be 'retail clients'.
- businesses (including companies, trustees, partnerships, sole traders, co-operatives and associations), some of whom may be 'retail clients'.
- self-managed superannuation fund trustees, some of whom may be 'retail clients'.

(Hereafter, Consumer).

Customer objectives, financial situation and needs

Judo's Product would suit or be appropriate for Consumers who:

- are looking for a simple cash investment or deposit product that will earn an agreed, fixed rate of interest over a fixed amount of time (Term) as advertised on Judo's website from time to time (as selected by the Consumer based on their individual circumstances) or as advised by the relevant broker and selected by the Consumer based on their individual circumstances (as applicable);
- are looking to deposit a minimum amount of at least A$1,000; and
- do not want to pay ongoing management fees in relation to their investment (noting that, subject to hardship, there may be an interest adjustment or reduction in respect of withdrawn funds if a Consumer seeks to withdraw part or all of their deposit before it reaches the maturity date, and that the Consumer would also be liable for any government taxes and charges).

Judo's Product would not suit or be appropriate for Consumers who are looking:

- for flexibility in being able to withdraw or transfer the deposit 'at call' as 31 days' notice is required for early withdrawal before maturity (unless hardship applies), or to add further funds to the deposit during the agreed fixed Term; and

- to be able to benefit from changes in interest rates (as the interest rate relevant to a Product is fixed for the Term selected by the Consumer, subject to any applicable early withdrawal interest adjustment, taxes or charges),
- as other, more flexible, deposit products may be more suitable for those Consumers.

Distribution conditions and restrictions

Distribution channels

Judo's Product is distributed in only three ways:

- by Judo online, direct to the Consumer, with the application and deposit made electronically via Judo's website. Judo does not have any physical branches, so an application, or a deposit, cannot be made in person;
- in certain limited circumstances, by way of a Judo Relationship Banker, where a business lending customer requires a term deposit; or
- via a term deposit broker, which holds its own AFSL or is an authorised representative of an AFSL holder.

Distribution conditions and restrictions

Broadly, other key conditions and restrictions on Judo's distribution of the Product include that:

- a Product will only be issued to a consumer subject to satisfactory identity verification under applicable laws, including the Anti-Money Laundering and Counter-Terrorism Financing Act 2006 (Cth).
- a Product will only be issued to persons who are 18 years or older (if applicable) and Australian resident or domiciled for tax purposes.

The above distribution channels and distribution conditions and restrictions, and this TMD generally, are intended to ensure that Consumers who acquire the Product are likely to be in the target market discussed above and that the Product would likely be consistent with the likely objectives, financial situation and needs of the Consumer that acquires it.

Review of TMD

Review triggers

Judo's Product offering will be reviewed if:

- no Consumer enters into a Product with Judo during a continuous 24-month period;
- we receive a significant number of 'retail client' complaints about the Product that indicate it is no longer suitable for the above target market;
- a significant dealing¹ occurs which is inconsistent with this TMD.

Review period

In addition to conducting reviews in response to the review triggers outlined above, given the relative simplicity of the Product and its specific target market, Judo will conduct the first review of this TMD within 12 months of the date of this TMD, with periodic reviews of the TMD on an annual basis thereafter.

¹ A 'significant dealing' will be determined by Judo considering factors such as: out of the consumers who acquire the Product, the proportion who are not in the target market; or the actual or potential harm to consumers, including the amount of any financial loss, resulting from consumers who are not in the target market acquiring the product.
